- Professional resume development and career plan
- Participation in on-going networking events
- Counsel for individual participation in available government training programs
- Counsel and identification of appropriate job fairs
- Access to web portal on 24/7 basis for job leads, research data bases, and e-coach services
- Workspace availability at local office/ administrative support
- Access to alumni networks
- Networking support and identification nationally

The Difference: Trusted Professionals Offering Customized Service

"I had no idea after being laid off from my company that I would count myself lucky for the experience. The coaching I received from Ginny Lord and her team helped me to move on and secure another job -- the job I would never have reached for if I hadn't been laid-off and met my outstanding career coach. Although I lost my job years ago, I remain in close contact with Ginny -- she continues to help me with her business advice. Her group works the way you dream of, provides help you hope to experience but rarely do."
